MEDICARE RURAL HOSPITAL FLEXIBILITY (FLEX) EDUCATION & TRAINING

AGENCY BACKGROUND

The Georgia Department of Community Health (DCH) was created in 1999 by Senate Bill 241 to serve as the lead agency for health care planning and purchasing issues in Georgia. DCH is the single state agency for Medicaid and insures over two million people in the State of Georgia, maximizing the State's health care purchasing power, coordinating health planning for State agencies and proposing cost-effective solutions for reducing the number of uninsured.

The Georgia Department of Community Health (DCH) was created in 1999 by Senate Bill 241 and has the responsibility for insuring over two million people in the State of Georgia, maximizing the State's health care purchasing power, coordinating health planning for State agencies and proposing cost-effective solutions for reducing the number of uninsured.

Within DCH, the State Office of Rural Health (SORH) is funded through the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), Office of Rural Health Policy (ORHP) the Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility (FLEX) Grant.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility (FLEX) Program was authorized by section 4201 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (BBA), Public Law 105-33. The FLEX Program provides funding for the designation of critical access hospitals (CAHs) in rural communities. Critical Access Hospital designation allows the hospital to be reimbursed on a reasonable cost basis for inpatient and outpatient services (including lab and qualifying ambulance services) provided to Medicare patients.

The core areas of the Programs include support for:

- Quality Improvement
- Operational and Financial Improvement
- Health System Development and Community Engagement
- Education and Training

Additional activities within the FLEX Program include facilitating the conversion of hospitals CAH status supporting network development; and supporting for workforce issues.

AWARD JUSTIFICATION

The Georgia Department of Community Health intends to award Georgia Association of Emergency Medical Services a grant in the amount of $100,000 to execute a pilot program utilizing the education and training curriculum.

DCH presents this funding as a direct award in that Georgia Association of Emergency Medical Services meets the federal requirements.
