1.	Driffin & Tucker is an accounting firm partnership. Near the bottom of the DCH application form there are check boxes for type of organization; however the choices provided do not include a for-profit entity. How should we respond to the type of organization question? Choices provided are: Hospital, Clinic, Faith Community, Physician, Non-profit, Primary Care Provider, Government Entity and Consortia of These.	Type in "For Profit" will be acceptable.
2.	The Project Narrative section is limited to 12 pages. It is noted that the budget form and budget plan "will not be counted toward the narrative page limit". Are the following sections INCLUDED in the narrative page limit? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Project Work Plan Timeline Evaluation Plan Sustainability Plan Appendices Letters of support 	No.
3.	The Budget Plan form is designed to list personnel salaries, fringe benefits, office operation expenses, etc. Under Administrative Expenses there is a line item for Consultant Expenses. Typically accounting firms charge for their services based on hourly rates, or fees per project. On the Budget Plan, are we to put our fees as 100% Consultant fees, and explain in the budget narrative our fees charged? For example, $X for each course developed, $X per participant attending (registration fees), $X per webinar, etc. This is typically the way we bill for our services.	Based on your question, consultant fees should be listed at 100% and fully explained/elaborated on in the budget narrative.
4.	The application checklist states that this grant is for "Putting Prevention to Work", and the Application Review and Evaluation Criteria - Application Review section states "Programs must be specific to Georgia Division of Public health (DPH), Health promotion and Disease Prevention Programs (HPDPP), Nutrition and Physical Activity Initiative. Proposals . . .outlined in the Georgia Nutrition and Physical Activity State Plan." I assume I am to consider these references as mistakes?	It is an error and should state for the FLEX CAH Regional Operational Performance Leadership Education and Training Grant.
